

Albert Saunders, M.D., FCCP
Internal Medicine and Pulmonology
911 Busse Highway
New York, NY 10016
(212) 555-2200

November 16, 1991

Richard Smith, M.D., FCCP
4908 School Street
Mesa, AZ 90010

Dear Doctor Smith:

Based on the information detailed in your listing in the 1991 edition of the ACCP Directory and Referral Guide, I have asked my patient, Mr. Douglas Anderson, to contact your office for an appointment.

I have treated Mr. Anderson for over 12 years because of long-standing chronic obstructive disease. Enclosed is a summary of his clinical history, laboratory findings and current medication regimen.

The patient has recently been experiencing substernal chest pain which could be related to pulmonary hypertension but is also consistent with angina pectoris. I would appreciate it if you could provide a complete cardiovascular diagnostic workup with appropriate stress tests, etc.

Mr. Anderson will be spending the winter in Arizona and I believe that he needs your attention during this interval. He will return to New York City in the spring.

Sincerely,

Albert Saunders - M.D., FCCP
Albert Saunders, M.D., FCCP

Why is the 1991
ACCP Membership Directory the preferred referral source for cardiopulmonary consultants?*

Pulmonologists, cardio-logists, and cardiothoracic surgeons.*

In addition to an alphabetic index and comprehensive biographic data in each individual listing, the ACCP Directory features a unique, easy-to-use Specialty Section, affording you direct access to the type of consultant you need. ACCP's high standards for membership assure you that the names you find in the Directory represent the leadership in the cardiopulmonary community.

Whether you need a pulmonary consultant in Cincinnati, a cardiothoracic surgeon in Omaha, a cardiologist in Sydney, Australia, or a radiologist in Tokyo, the 1991 ACCP MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY will continue to be your most useful reference guide.

